

TASK OF MOTHERS TREMENDOUS ONE, SPEAKER DECLARES

Seventy Attend Banquet
In Methodist Church
Tuesday Night

That the greatest task in the world today is that of mothers in fitting their children for life, is the belief expressed by Mrs. L. F. Hoover, Greenwood, in an address before 70 mothers and daughters who gathered for the banquet sponsored by the Mother's club in the Methodist church Tuesday night.

Mrs. Hoover scored the mothers who become so interested in themselves and their own activities that the sons and daughters of the family are forgotten and neglected. Boys and girls need training and it is necessary that they have the most careful attention of their parents, she said.

"I do not believe that young people today are as bad as pictured by many. I do not entertain the idea for one minute—not for a second. I believe boys and girls in general are good. There are exceptions, of course, but in what age has it not been so? Mother-daughter banquets are encouraging signs of the times. A few years ago there were no such things," Mrs. Hoover stated.

Health Is Broken

Mrs. Hoover believes that Mother's clubs will lengthen the lives of mothers, inasmuch as such clubs teach mothers how to care for their children in the easiest way, yet giving them the best care possible.

"Many women slave for their children and are kept from entering social and welfare activities when the boys and girls are small, and by the time these same women have reared their children and have opportunities to go places their health is broken," the speaker declared.

Mrs. Hoover doesn't believe that any mother need wear out her life for her children. She stressed the teaching of unselishness by object lessons. The importance of cultivating ambition in the child was also discussed.

"Nothing is more necessary in a young boy or girl than faith," Mrs. Hoover concluded. "Faith engendered in young life will last and not change. Upon faith a life is built."

Mrs. W. C. Petty acted as toastmaster. Miss Martha Westlake read a poem, "Mother," Mrs. H. B. Gaston sang "Mother Machine," "Mother," and "Danny Boy." She was accompanied by Miss Ladel Boden. Miss Hedvig Rice played a piano solo at the conclusion of the program.

Mrs. Boh Byrke was chairman of the committee in charge of the dinner.

Youth Kills Self When Sweetheart Gives Attention to Another Man

Despondent because Miss Helen Dossor, 21, the girl he loved, went out with another man, Elmer Richter, 22, Burlington, shot himself with a .45 calibre revolver Tuesday night at 11:30 o'clock. Mr. Richter's mother, Mrs. Huldah Schultz, lives one mile north of Antioch and has been employed at the Antlers hotel.

Mr. Richter went to Miss Dossor's home about 11:30 o'clock and called for the girl to come out in front. When she appeared he shot himself in the right temple, still sitting at the wheel of his automobile. Mr. Richter was not engaged to be married to Miss Dossor. It is said that Miss Dossor had only considered herself a good friend of Mr. Richter's although he had declared his love for her. By trade he was a mason.

Funeral services will be held in Burlington Friday afternoon. Two sisters and three brothers are left. The brothers are at home with Mrs. Schultz, Antioch.

MRS. SCOTT FALLS

Falling from a chair, Mrs. Lena Scott broke her hip Wednesday noon.

Mrs. Scott was standing on a chair when the accident occurred. She was taken to Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, where her condition was reported as favorable this morning.

VILLAGE TRUSTEES ASSURE EXTENSION OF WATER MAINS

Ordinance Is Passed at Special Meeting Held
Last Night

Extension of the Lake street water main was approved by the Board of Improvements of the Village trustees when an ordinance was passed last night at a special meeting to the effect that an extension of 650 feet be made.

The estimated cost is $2,285. Of this amount $1,370 is for material; $170 for two hydrants; $120 for engineering and inspection, and $125 for making and collecting assessments. A petition is to be filed praying that steps be taken to arrange a special assessment. Engineer J. A. Todson, Elgin, was present at the meeting.

With the trustees sitting on the Village board, a motion was made and adopted to accept the plat of B. F. Naber's second subdivision as proposed to the board. Mr. Naber and Father Daniel Frawley were present. Some of the land included in Mr. Naber's gift to St. Peter's church is not in the village, and yesterday afternoon the Lake County Plat committee took similar action to that taken by the Village board last night.

Engineer Todson was ordered to prepare an estimate for building a bridge across Sequoit creek west of the septic tank. The old bridge has collapsed.

Village trustees decided to remove the traffic light at the corner of Main and Harden streets, as the light is considered a nuisance and unnecessary.

BROOK IS ELECTED HEAD OF LIBRARY BOARD FOR YEAR

Officers elected Thursday night for the Antioch Library board are: Elmer Brook, president, and Mrs. Della Mathews, secretary.

Committees were appointed as follows: Frank Kling, Mrs. Nellie Bregan, and Dr. R. D. Williams, finance committee; Mrs. Mathews and Mrs. Edna Warriner, books committee; and Mrs. Warriner, Frank Kling and Mrs. Mathews, building and grounds committee.

Meetings of the board will be the first Tuesday in each month. That this year will be a red letter one for the Antioch library seems assured, according to board members. Gifts can now be taken care of and will be greatly appreciated, it is said.

Gentleman-TrampLaughs at Money; Never Had More Than $20 at Once, He Tells Antioch News Reporter

"You don't have to have money to be happy."

This is the bit of philosophy advanced by James Martin, 69, who stopped in Antioch Tuesday on his way to nowhere in particular. When asked what his name was, Mr. Martin scratched his head, laughed, and said:

"Well, I'll be gol darned! Just time anyone has asked me that for a heck o' a long time. All my buddies just call me 'Cash.' Here Mr. Martin laughed again. In fact, he roared.

"Funny thing," he continued, "that I talk about my buddies, because I never am acquainted with a person more than two days at a time. Funny thing is, though, that anyone ever started callin' me 'Cash.' It's an honest-to-gawd fact that I never had more than $20 at a time. Usually I have about $5. That's enough. No ma-zuma—no worries."

Wears Out Bikes.

He is a type. He's happy—extremely so, he says. He doesn't appear to be 69 years old. But why should he? No worries and out in the air most of the time. "Cash" bums from town to town—city to city—state to state.

He walks a great deal, rides some, and times when motorists ask him, and at different times he has bought bicycles (old, second-hand ones) and has ridden them until "they just ain't no more bicycles left."

"Do you ever become ill while on your travels?" the interviewer asked "Cash."

"Sick?" He asked. "Why, heck no. What would make a feller like me sick? And here the wanderer revealed another interesting fact. He never grabs "a hunk o' cheese and a bottle of beer or a hot dog" and kids himself into believing he has had a meal. "Cash" always eats in good hotels or restaurants, he says, and he was cutting away at a porterhouse steak when encountered in Antioch. He is clean and his clothes are neat although not ultra-fashionable. He was wearing a corduroy suit, a light tan flannel shirt and a soft blue tie.

"You look more like a forest ranger," he was told, and reference was also made to his attractive tie.

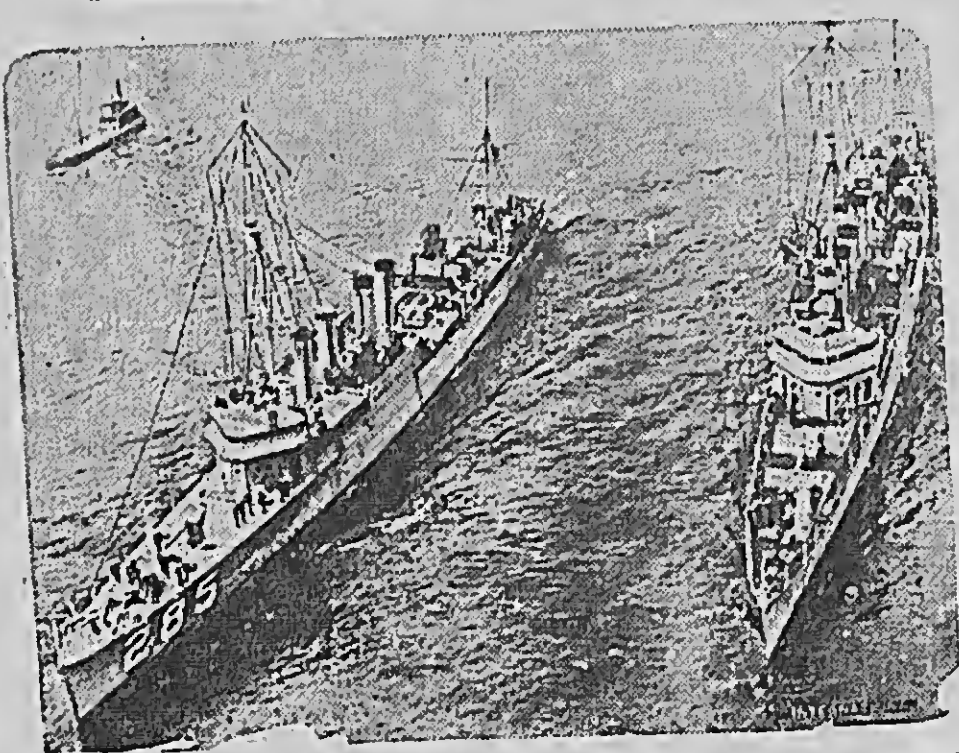

Works Once in a While

"Forest ranger, nothin'," he mused. "I'm a tramp. Just a tramp. But I've been all over the United States, Canada, and South America. As to that tie—well, I figger if I am a-gol to eat in good places where I can get good food, I gotta look pretty decent. Sometimes I work for my board, sometimes I do odd jobs—just anything to pick up a few extra dollars."

In answer to a question he replied: "I don't know just how I got started makin' bummin' a profession. My pa and ma died when I was a kid and I was put in an orphanage where I didn't get very good treatment, so I ran away. I'm still a-runnin'."

And here "Cash" chuckled, then repeated: "Still a-runnin'."

4-H CLUB MEMBERS IN KENOSHA COUNTY PLAN FOR BIG YEAR

355 Boys and Girls Have Enrolled and Started
To Work.

" Hats off to the past—coats off to the future" is apparently the slogan adopted by Kenosha County 4-H club members.

The records of 306 Kenosha County club members showed that they had produced $10,751.80 worth of goods consisting of everything in the line of live stock, field and garden crops, clothing, baking, canning, etc. Twelve of these members were honor members, one of them in two projects, three were state champions and 231 were achievement members.

A complete list of their accomplishments would fill a column; but the important thing is that Kenosha County 4-H clubs are preparing for another record-breaking year of work and achievement. To date, 355 members have enrolled and started work on their projects.

Inasmuch as most of the members who completed their 1928 projects are back again this year, it is expected that this year's achievement record will outstrip that of 1928, and that this year's enrollment will equal last year's high mark of 465 members. A large growth in new members always lowers the percentage of completions because it usually takes some time to get the 4-H club idea.

There are 16 clubs located in all parts of the county. Twenty leaders are co-operating in making these clubs a success.

ALL BUT TWO TEACHERS AGREE TO COME BACK TO ANTIOCH SCHOOL

Little, if any, change will be made in the teaching staff for the Antioch High school next year. The entire teaching staff was asked to return and all have signed contracts with the exception of Miss Hedvig Rice and Miss Gladys Talling. Miss Talling and Miss Rice will announce their decisions within a short time.

L. O. Bright will remain as principal and instructor of mathematics. He has his A. M. degree, having studied at the Illinois State Normal university and the University of Illinois.

Mrs. Ruby Richey has a B. E. degree, having graduated from the Illinois State Normal university. She teaches home economics.

C. L. Kutil, instructor of vocational agriculture, is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin with a B. S. degree. Miss Leone Miller will return as a teacher of English. She has an A. B. degree from the University of Minnesota.

G. G. Reed, coach of athletics, has a B. S. degree from Purdue, and an M. S. from Iowa State college. Fred Hackett, who is an instructor in manual arts, has a B. S. degree from North Dakota State college. L. W. Peterson is a graduate of the Stevens Point State Teachers' college. Miss Alice E. Smith, Valparaiso, De Kalb, will again teach history and Latin courses.

EXAMINATIONS ARE STARTED

Examinations are being given in various schools of the county by T. A. Simpson, county superintendent of schools. The dates for the tests in Antioch have not been announced. School closes June 4.

ARTISTS CAPTIVATE ANTIOCH AUDIENCE WITH SELECTIONS

Bertha James Carrell and Rudolph Mangold
Appear in Concert

By V. Ludel Boden

In the most artistic and the most pleasing concert presented in Antioch for many months, Bertha James Carrell, soprano, and Rudolph Mangold, violinist, delighted the audience which filled the Methodist church Monday night.

The program was a well-balanced one, the slightly heavier numbers being tinted with familiar, lighter selections.

Bertha James Carrell was greeted with open arms as she always is when she returns to Antioch, her former home. Friends and their friends always expect to hear something out of the ordinary. Certainly no one was disappointed at this week's program. Mrs. Carrell's voice control, her personal grace, and her unusually pleasing personality were united into a beautiful harmony of artistic expression.

Plays Own Compositions

In the first group of songs, Thanks Be To God was outstanding. Mrs. Carrell had an opportunity to display the uncommonly attractive quality of her voice. She carried her listeners with her from the more dignified and stately songs to the swaying melodies such as found in the Swiss Echo Song. This number, especially the echo effects, delighted the audience. Mrs. Carrell's diction is clear-cut. Virtually every word was understood.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. BEGINS LAYING GAS LINES ON MAIN ST.

After a delay of more than a year, active work of installing gas lines on Main street through the business section was begun here Wednesday by the Public Service company.

Inability on the part of the company to obtain right-of-way has been responsible for the year's delay. Agitation regarding new streets or alleys, where the gas mains might have been laid, caused the company's demands for right-of-way to be tabled until it was positively known that additional thoroughfares were out of the question for the time being.

Meanwhile, business firms on the street were clamoring for the installation of gas service and the matter even went before the Illinois Commerce commission, only to be referred back to local authorities with the advice that the village furnish the company right-of-way as provided in the franchise.

The Village council faced an acute situation, and as a final resort gave the Public Service company permission to lay the mains under the sidewalks from Park avenue to Depot street.

Public Service workmen have found their task of removing the sections of cement sidewalk to be a double one, for a foot under the new walk there remains the old cement of years ago. This is accounted for from the fact that when the pavement was put in here in 1922, the survey provided for a new street and sidewalk elevation and the new cement was laid over the old.

Waukegan Man Speaks To 100 Who Attend Dinner Friday Night

Lillian Wells told "What Boys and Girls Think of Their Mothers." Miss Esther Barthel sang two solos, "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "Mother O' Mine." The Rev. H. Campbell Dixon was toastmaster. Morris Bown, Vera Bown and George Martin furnished music during the dinner.

THE old French seam she didn't what she used to be.

At least, that's what women learned who were gathered at the home of Mrs. H. C. Glickerson, Grayslake Friday. The women present were leaders of girls' 4-H clubs from all parts of Lake county. They, together with Miss Mary McKee of the home economics extension department of the University of Illinois, held an all-day meeting with a luncheon at noon.

Lengthy discussion was given to the various ways of putting hems and seams in dresses. Miss McKee recalled the days when French seams were considered the only proper seams for finishing dresses.

"Today, however," she said, "French seams are almost taboo. Why shouldn't they be? They are bothersome, they are not pretty, they won't permit a dress to hang properly, and they are not as easily made as other kinds of seams. Expensive dresses bought in the most exclusive shops never have French seams."

Miss McKee exhibited specimens of seams used for different materials. For organza a tiny plain seam had been made, the edges then being picoted. This resulted in a strong seam—and an attractive one. Pinking was suggested for woolen materials and some silks. All materials were studied.

Miss McKee displayed sketches of newest spring and summer styles and samples of materials suggested for making afternoon dresses, ensembles, snooks, house dresses, and lingerie.

Prints and gingham in colorful gay patterns, linens, and dimities prevailed.

Fagoting was studied as a trimming. Fagoting is used for joining two edges of materials. The edges are basted evenly apart (from one-fourth to three-eighths of an inch), the thread is fastened in one edge and then the other, the result being similar to a braid stitch—boasting somewhat the appearance of tiny hour glasses.

It's Most Important To Study Color Scheme

FLOORS, walls, and ceiling form the background of a room. For proper balance and a feeling of stability the deepest note should be at the bottom—the floor; the walls should be neutral in color and medium in tone, the ceilings light.

A three-color scheme is always richer than two colors. A color scheme may be chosen in two ways—first by selecting a desired color with due consideration for its suitability to the purpose, exposure, size and height of the room and the furniture contained therein; second, establish a scheme from the colors given in a

ALL ABOUT WHAT THE
LITTLE CHILDREN ARE DOING IN ANIMAL WORLD

BY V. LUDEL BODEN

Do you know who the busiest people in Animal Land are now? You can't guess? Try! Put on your thinking caps. What do you think, Marjorie? Why of course, the birds are the busiest residents of Animal Land.

The birds have all been in Florida and other southern states for the winter, and now that they are all back north around Channel Lake, Loon Lake, Grass Lake, and all other lakes outside Antioch and Lake Villa, they are having the most fun seeing each other again and telling each other of all the fun they had during the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Robin were the first ones to arrive in Animal Land and so they they are more settled than the rest of their feathered friends. Mrs. Robin told Mr. Robin the other day that she thought she would have a reception for all the birds in Animal Land, so that the birds would all get to see each other and have a good time. A reception, boys and girls, is a great big party where everyone becomes acquainted and where there is music. Of course there is something to eat, too! Mr. Robin said he thought it would be nice to have the reception, and so the Robins had the biggest party that was ever held in Animal Land.

Mr. and Mrs. Redbird, Mr. and Mrs. Bluebird, Mr. and Mrs. Blackbird, Mr. and Mrs. Swallow, and Mr. and Mrs. Wren helped with the party. All the guests were all cleaned up and wore their finest laces and ribbons. When everyone was present and the Bluejay Jazz orchestra was furnishing music for dancing dozens and dozens of fancy little paper folders were thrown down among the crowd.

"What are those? What are those?" everyone asked. The orchestra stopped playing to see why the folders were all thrown down, and the dancers stopped dancing to read what was on the fancy papers.

"A surprise!" everyone cried. The folders said that when the hands of the clock pointed to midnight the orchestra should play something sweet, slow, and soft.

"What do you suppose is going to happen?" Mrs. Robin asked Mr. Robin. "Dear me! Dear me! Do you suppose something terrible is going to happen?"

"No, no, dear," Mr. Robin told his wife. "I think some of our friends are playing a little joke on the crowd." Mr. Robin really was a little bit worried, but he didn't want Mrs. Robin to know it, for if Mrs. Robin were worried she would cry and would not have a good time.

Everyone was very anxious for midnight to come. At five minutes before midnight the guests sat down around the sides of the room. Exactly at 12 o'clock while the orchestra was playing a dreamy melody, two tiny bluebirds, carrying baskets of rose petals, walked into the room. They scattered the rose petals on the floor. Everyone knew then that there was going to be a wedding. The orchestra started to play the wedding march and soon the bride's attendants, the bride and the entire wedding party was there. Guess who was the bride? Dainty little Miss Tiny Wren, and she married Tommy Wren. Everyone knew that the couple had been very, very much in love for a long, long time, but yet everyone was surprised that the wedding should be celebrated at midnight. After the ceremony everyone danced, ate, and had a lovely time.

And Mrs. Robin was very, very glad that she had had the party and that there had been a big surprise.

If you have the responsibility of looking after the family car, there are some things you ought to know about motor oil. Things which nobody has cared to talk about before:

Oil must meet four requirements, engineers say, if lubrication is to be both complete and correct. Motor oil must provide—the 4 essentials of complete and proper lubrication

1. LOW CARBON CONTENT
2. NON-FOULING CARBON
3. IDEAL BODY AT ALL OPERATING TEMPERATURES
4. LOW POUR POINT

Thousands of automobile owners have found that there is one oil—Shell Motor Oil—which has all four of these characteristics:

Many otherwise good lubricants leave excessive carbon of a hard, flinty nature. But Shell forms little carbon, 20 to 33 per cent less than most oils.

And the little carbon which it forms is soft, fluffy, non-fouling. It blows away with the exhaust gases.

Shell Motor Oil has ideal body at all operating temperatures. That means it has courage and a fighting heart; it won't break down and cause trouble through long, hard service. You may never need to drive sixty miles an hour, but it's good to know you can with safety to your engine.

And Shell Motor Oil has a low pour point to make starting easy in cold weather.

Regular users of Shell Motor Oil tell of marked reduction in carbon removal jobs. They report amazing trouble-free performance, enjoy lowered operating costs and have fewer repair bills.

The quality which makes such satisfactory performance possible, is due to two things: the selection of the crude petroleum which forms the base of Shell Motor Oil, and the refining process which prepares that crude for use.

Shell's vast oil fields produce a great quantity of crude oil from which Shell selects its lubricating stock. And the refining process developed and used exclusively by Shell, prepares this crude in a very special way. Then Shell Motor Oil passes 259 tests before it is sealed for shipment from the refinery.

STOP AT THE SIGN OF THE SHELL

You'll find courteous attendants who will be glad to drain the crankcase of your car and refill with the right amount and correct grade of Shell Motor Oil. The familiar yellow and red service stations are convenient everywhere.

BANDS OF PAPER SERVE AS TRAPS FOR MOTHS WHICH INFEST TREES

Urbana, May 16—The "trapping season" is at hand for the codling moth, that insect which every year piles up destruction in orchards of the state by causing wormy apples. S. C. Chandler, assistant entomologist of the Illinois State Natural History survey, has reported to the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

The "traps" themselves are nothing more than bands of paper placed about the trunks of the trees. To catch the most worms, bands should be in place by the first of June in southern Illinois and by the middle of the month in the central part of the state, Chandler said.

"Trapping is highly effective in control of the codling moth because when it is in the work stage, the insect instinctively searches out some hiding place on the trunk of the tree in which to change to the moth stage," Chandler explained. "By catching the worms in the paper-band 'traps,' orchardists can reduce the injury from the next generation. This method, although supplementary to spraying, has proved to be of considerable value, especially in seasons of heavy codling moth infestation.

good job of scraping. The rough outer bark should be scraped off from the ground line up to and including the main crotch or even further up where possible. Then the worms that crawl down the tree trunk and those that drop with wormy apples and crawl up the trunk will not find any good hiding place until they reach the band.

"The paper bands are about six inches wide and are put on about half way between the crotch and the ground and secured by a single bill, poster tack or roofing nail. The bands will have to be examined and the worms killed every ten days until August 15 or else some of them will emerge as moths and escape, thus defeating the purpose of the bands.

Average of 109 Worms
"Experiments with treated bands which kill the worms by contact are progressing and it is hoped that a type will be developed which will be effective and not repellent to the worms or injurious to the tree. Of the untreated bands tested in Illinois experiments during the past season, two types proved to be attractive to the worms. One was made of crepe paper and the other of burlap-faced, tar-lined paper, such as is used in making bags. In a test orchard in central Illinois, an average of 109 worms a tree were caught under these two kinds of bands."

"KONJOLA ONLY MEDICINE THAT GAVE RELIEF"

New Compound Ends Suffering After Hope Has Been Abandoned.

"Konjola is a wonderful medicine, and I ought to know, for I have taken many different ones in the last five years," said Mrs. H. H. Beckman, Route No. 2, New Boston.

"For five years I suffered from stomach trouble and constipation. Food refused to digest, and no matter what I ate, suffering was bound to follow. The pains were so bad that I thought I would not be able to stand them another minute. My bowels became irregular, and my system was filled with poisons.

"I was skeptical about Konjola, but finally gave it a trial. I noticed good results from the beginning. When I had used four bottles, my old health was restored. My stomach works as it should and I can eat anything I care to without suffering afterwards. My bowels have been regulated, and the poisons swept from my system. Konjola is the only medicine that gave me relief, and I had tried many."

Konjola is sold in Antioch at S. H. Reeves' drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

SPRAY IS SUGGESTED TO KILL LEAFHOPPERS AND SAVE POTATOES

Entomologist Says That Bordeaux Mixture Is Most Effective.

Urbana, May 16 — Enough potato leafhoppers, one of the destructive insects of this crop, survived the winter to produce large numbers by the time potatoes are out of the ground this year, C. C. Compton, assistant entomologist of the Illinois State Natural History survey, reports to the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. Injury can be prevented by spraying or dusting with Bordeaux mixture. This paid even last year, which was not a bad leafhopper season, he said.

Will Increase Yield
"The Bordeaux spray, made up to the formula of 4-6-50, should be applied to the plants with a sprayer that will develop 150 pounds pressure. The first treatment is given when the plants are about six inches out of the ground or when the leafhoppers are first noticed. Subsequent applications are made at weekly intervals until four or five have been put on.

"Spraying with Bordeaux mixture will give slightly larger increases in yields, but dusting with dry Bordeaux will give good commercial control. Fields of one or two acres can be dusted with hand machines costing much less than the heavy spraying. A further advantage of dusting is that fields can be worked shortly after heavy rains when heavier spraying equipment could not be used. The cost of materials is about the same for spraying and dusting.

"Prepared" Bordeaux mixtures for dusting or spraying may be bought, but when fields of an acre or more are to be treated, the home-made mixtures are recommended. Two pounds of arsenate of lead, or 50 pounds of the dust, must be added to each 50 gallons of Bordeaux spray when chewing or leaf eating insects are present in addition to the leafhoppers. Commercial mixtures already contain this added poison.

Is Small Insect
"The leafhopper is a small, narrow, pale green insect which flies or hops considerable distances when disturbed. Both the young and the adults feed on the leaves, extracting the plant juices and at the same time spreading the familiar "tip burn" disease. Infected leaves curl upward slightly or soon the tip and margin of the leaves become brown."

MEN ARE PLANNING FOR CARD PARTY

ANTIOCH TO PLAY STIVERS OF OHIO 27TH OF DECEMBER

Four large high schools and still lower small ones have the opportunity of meeting the Dayton (Ohio) Stivers High school in basketball. Yet Antioch, through Coach G. G. ### TOO MANY CALLS

"Stop my ad!" Mrs. James Wilton exclaimed this morning when she called THE NEWS office. Mrs. Wilton inserted an ad in the classified columns last week that she was offering room and board for $10 a week. The ad was to run this week also, but Mrs. Wilton cancelled it. She has had more telephone calls than she had ever dreamed of having. She couldn't possibly accommodate all who wanted her to cook their meals. That's the result of advertising.

Office of
OTIS F. GLENN
United States Senator

Washington, D. C., May 16—After many weeks of work by the majority members of the Committee on Ways and Means of the House, a bill containing 85,000 words was presented to the House last week, which bill is designed to replace the Fordney-McCumber Law of 1922. The bill was referred back to the Ways and Means committee automatically. It was debated on the floor of the House last Thursday, and there was Republican caucus at 3:00 o'clock on Friday. On account of the strength on the Republican side, little hope is entertained by the minority members for amendments. It is predicted that it will be two weeks, and perhaps more, before the bill will reach the Senate, when it will be taken up by the Committee on Finance.

The Tariff bill is called a "readjustment," but it is in reality a revision, mainly in the interest of agriculture. Chairman Hawley, of the Ways and Means committee is credited with a statement supplementing the committee's report, saying that the duties proposed in the bill "are intended to adjust differences in competitive conditions at home and abroad based upon our experience under the existing law."

"In the present bill, although a percentage of duties has been readjusted," he continued, "the average rate on dutiable imports will not be materially changed. Readjustments have been made where the differences in competitive conditions, the protection of labor, and the state of the industries affected appeared to require them and the public interest to justify."

The Ways and Means committee has had no easy task before it endeavoring to frame a bill to meet the ideas of President Hoover for a limited revision of the present tariff law, and at the same time satisfy the farmers, the manufacturers, and the importers. It is perhaps too much to hope that all of these groups will be pleased with the result.

Farm Relief Bill May Be Passed Within The Next Few Days

The Farm Relief bill is still under debate in the Senate, with a 10-minute limit as to the length of time one member may speak upon the subject. On Wednesday the debenture feature was passed by the Senate by a vote of 44 to 47. A final vote on the bill in the Senate is expected late Monday or Tuesday.

Delegation Guards Future Of Chanute Field

From time to time, rumors are current that the abandonment of Chanute Field at Rantoul, Illinois, is imminent. The Illinois Senators called up General Fechet, Chief of the Army Air Corps, last week, to protest the abandonment of the field. They were informed that while no additional construction at Chanute Field at this time is contemplated by the Government, the abandonment of the field has never been under consideration by those in authority, and is not now advocated by anyone having such authority.

It seems that a more extensive air program for the National Defense is considered important, and, in fact, vital. Greater appropriations for facilities for Flying Reserves will no doubt be asked of Congress, and it may be that, in view of its central and easily accessible location, Chanute Field will become one of the important centers of the Reserve Activities.

Congressman Adkins, of the Rantoul district, and other Illinois members of the House of Representatives are actively co-operating with the Illinois Senators in their efforts in opposition to the abandonment of Chanute Field or the curtailment of the activities there.

Coalition Victory
Although President Hoover's constant supporters in Congress are counting upon the final defeat of the Debenture plan; it cannot be denied that the adoption by the State of this plan—first in committee and then upon the floor—is a smashing defeat for the President in his first conflict with the Senate. The Democratic leader, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, and his ally in this fight, Senator Norris, insurgent or Progressive leader, are receiving many congratulations upon the mastery in which they conducted their fight and held their forces together. Naturally, the Democrats, still nursing the wounds of the late presidential campaign, are much elated.

Honorary Degree For Dawes

Word is received from London that General Charles G. Dawes, the new Ambassador to the Court of St. James, is to have an honorary degree conferred upon him. Cambridge University has just announced it will confer this honorary degree on June 4.

Illinois should be proud of the further recognition given her in the important appointment of former Vice-President Dawes to the foremost post in the diplomatic service. This appointment met with most hearty and enthusiastic support throughout the United States, and the response from the British Government, when it was informally asked if General Dawes would be acceptable, is said to have been "glowing in its complimentary nature."

Senators O. K. Plan For River Board
Plans for the creation of a permanent joint congressional committee to deal with general problems affecting the Mississippi river and its tributaries are under way, same having been formulated within the past week at a meeting of Senators from nine Mississippi Valley states.

The move, initiated by Senator Glenn, of Illinois, was regarded in Illinois waterway circles as affording an excellent opportunity for future consideration of problems in connection with the completion of the state's link in the link-to-the-gulf waterway.

Senator Deneen is joined with his colleague in the plea for the establishment of a permanent committee, with which move the Mississippi Valley Senators eagerly agree. Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, was Chairman of the meeting, and the following announcement was made by him:

"In all probability, as suggested by Senator Glenn, 'the conference will later be made permanent for dealing with general problems affecting the Mississippi river and its tributaries.' Formation of the Senate committee

MANGOLD-CARRELL CONCERT PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

Her tones were clean, too, and there was no slurring.

Mrs. Carrell played two numbers, Rockabye and April! April!, the music of which she had composed. The melodies were simple ones, but delightfully pleasing. For most of the program Mrs. Carrell played her own accompaniments. To the writer the program would have been better had she played her accompaniments throughout.

Mr. Mangold is a violinist of unusual ability but he can't play the piano as an accompanist. He did not follow Mrs. Carrell and he did not give the expression to her numbers that she would have done. Her rendition of Care Neme was excellent, however, and to persons who have seen Illegolette memories were brought back of the scene where the maiden soulfully sings of her love. Down in the Forest and The Old Fashioned Town were better than Treas.

Oh, Dem Golden Tunes!

Old familiar songs and Negro spirituals, grouped, included: Silver Threads Among the Gold, Last Rose of Summer, Just a Song at Twilight, Oh, Dem Golden Slippers, Carry Me Back to Ole Virghany, and When Mah Honey Sings. Mrs. Carrell interpreted her songs so well and her expression was so nearly faultless that she completely won her audience and she was forced to respond to many encores. Her Italian diction was smooth and clear and her German in Stille di Nacht (Calm as the Night) afforded an unusual opportunity to express sincerity and love. Comin' Through the Rye was sung with little affectations of coquetry.

Numbers Are Familiar

will be followed shortly by selection of members of the House to serve on the committee.

Illinoisians Honor Guest at the White House

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn were the honor guests at a small dinner given at the White House this week by President and Mrs. Hoover.

Trade, Buy, Sell or Rent—But Try Our Classifieds Like
Mrs. Griffin Does.

One of the most regular visitors at THE NEWS office is Mrs. William Griffin, Salem. Every week Mrs. Griffin drives to Antioch especially to come to the home of THE ANTIOCH NEWS.

She brings with her ads for the classified columns. Sometimes she wants to buy something. Often she has articles for sale—seed potatoes or most anything. Two or three ads a week. She believes that it really truly does "pay to advertise."

Mrs. Griffin is wise. There are many other persons just as wise. If you want to buy anything—look in the classified columns. Have something to sell or rent? Insert an ad in the columns on the back page of this paper. Did you lose a purse—a pen—keys—or anything? You'll be apt to find whatever is lost if you advertise for it. Kreisl's Caprice was captivating. Other familiar numbers, London-derry Air and Chinese Tambourine were included in the group with the

DR. BEEBE FINDS CHILDREN DO NOT HAVE SYMPTOMS

Examinations of pupils of the Antioch Grade school were given by Dr. H. F. Beebe during the last week, as a safeguard against any possibilities of scarlet fever. Dr. Beebe, who is a member of the board of health, found no symptoms of the disease in any of the children.

Valta and Raymond Baethko are now under quarantine, and the daughter of Louis Van Patten was under the ban for several weeks, the quarantine sign being removed last Friday.

Caprice. As an encore Dvorak's Humoresque was played.

For another encore, Mr. Mangold played Nocturne by Chopin—the antique phrases swelling into cheerful allegro measures, bursting like a bubble into playful cadenzas. Mr. Mangold seemed to study his audience in an uncanny way—whether consciously or not, it was a powerful factor in attracting his listeners. Mrs. Carrell was a capable accompanist, offering excellent support.

The best number on the program was the Berceuse from Jocelyn, with Mrs. Carrell playing the piano and singing and Mr. Mangold playing a violin obbligato. This combination also offered the Waters of Minnetonka, and these two selections brought to a fitting close a program by artists—a program like which Antioch can seldom boast.

POPPY TIME IN ANTIOCH

Poppy Day is to be observed in Antioch May 30 and 31—the days chosen by most American Legion posts for the annual sales. George Garland is in charge of the Poppy Days for the Antioch Legion Post.

The paramount idea in planning the manufacturing of poppies is to financially assist the men who make them. The poppies are made by sick and convalescent men who can only work for a short period each day or men so recently discharged from hospitals that they are unable to do much. If they are given poppies to make, they are helped to help themselves. In Illinois the flowers are made by disabled boys.

Legion posts pay the man one cent for each poppy he makes. When buying the flower, appreciate the time it takes to earn one cent. Are the poppies perfect? No, they are not. They are made by men who are ill—physically unfit. But the public is interested. The most interesting part of the legion work has been the recovery of many of the veterans who have gained new interests in life by once again earning money for their personal needs. Every poppy could tell a story of sacrifice and sufferings and often of actual want. Is there any reason why Great Britain, with less than one third of the population of the United States, should sell three times as many poppies as we do? Does the poppy mean more to them?

Help the members of the Legion. Too many of us talk of our sympathy toward disabled veterans, of our favor toward the American Legion, yet we never do anything to prove our statements. Actions speak louder than words. Act. Buy a poppy.

TAX COLLECTIONS

Income and miscellaneous tax collections of the Treasury Department at Washington for the first nine months of the fiscal year, which ends on July 1, totaled more than $2,137,000,000 which was an increase of more than sixty million dollars as compared with the same period a year ago. On this basis the department now estimates that the surplus of the budget at the end of the fiscal year will be around a hundred million dollars. In spite of the fact that the tax rate on corporation earnings was reduced in the last tax bill, the increase in taxes from corporations in the March settlement was around seventeen million dollars. This was due undoubtedly to the greater prosperity of the country and proves the contention of Secretary Mellon to the effect that lower tax rates mean more business, greater prosperity and greater collections.

The most striking feature in connection with the collections for the nine months was the increase in 1929 of the taxes on cigarettes. Total collections were $247,096,852.40 in 1929, as against $223,167,891.55 in 1928, a gain of $23,628,960.85. The number of cigarettes produced upon which taxes were levied continued to increase and in March this year totaled 8,689,510,113, as against 8,470,466,373 in the same month of 1928. Taxes on pipes and chewing tobacco returned $1,673,019 less revenue for the nine months.

There is much to be learned from a study of reports which the Treasury Department issues on tax collections. We are able to get a line on the business conditions of the country as in no other way. Surely the reports recently issued indicate that there is no cessation in the general commercial prosperity of the country.

The Malthusians claimed that the world would soon become so full of people it would be impossible to feed them. But they didn't count on the possibility that dieting and slender lines would cut the demand for food down to a minimum.

Some of our statesmen seem to believe that the only kind of man qualified for Secretary of the Treasury is one who never saves any money.

Hairdressers from all over the world met recently in Vienna to declare war on the feminine bob. Well you can take it from us, you have your work cut out for you, brothers.

Chemists announce that they have discovered a kickless alcohol but we doubt very much whether there will be much demand for this on the part of run runners.

There is a man out in our end of town who is so great a pacifist that he is going to bury his can of paris green and try to reach an agreement with the potato bugs this summer by arbitration.

We have always been of the opinion that the man who writes the editorial paragraphs criticizing short skirts is nearsighted.

ago and bearing a Wisconsin license, parked in front of the Williams emporium, Main street. So far the story is uneventful. But when the driver of the tiny car attempted to back out of the parking place, then an event happened. A huge, great big white milk truck came lumbering down the road and arrived back of the parking place just as did the tiny little car. Results: damaged Ford, shattered glass, unhurt milk truck, and a throng of spectators led by Dr. Beebe. Maybe Dr. Beebe thought some one would be injured and he could display his skill, but alas! only the Ford was hurt, and treating Ford is the task of Corrin and Allen's men—and not the task of an M. D. Wonder if a Ford mechanic boasts an F. D. (Ford Doctor) or L. L. O. (Limping Lizzie Doctor) degree?

Introducing Mayor George Bartlett, Principal L. O. Bright, Coach G. G. Reed, John Blackmon, and F. O.

Joe James has had some EVENTS in his life during the last few weeks—he had a chance to talk Chain O' Lakes and the dam proposition to his heart's content (the Out-Door show afforded excellent opportunities); his son's volleyball team won the national championship; announcement was made that J. C. was again a grandfather; and then Bertha James Carroll came to Antioch to sing Monday night. The point about this last is, however, that bright and early Monday morning Mr. James was out washing the windows of his office, the old wash cloth going up and down the panes to the whistled tune of "Way Down Upon the Swanee River." In the afternoon Mr. James polished his automobile. Great day for him—and the way he puffed out his chest at the concert—oh! Guess he's one of those proverbial "proud papas."

Now comes one Pat Lowry, recently ascended to the position of alderman, with a threat to censure the Antioch News. And the News is in a quandary—what to do. Whether 'tis nobler, in the light of Patrick's threat, to struggle on in spite of it, or to quit, sell the News, give it away, or lock up shop and cast the key into the rushing waters of the Sequoit creek. Alderman Pat Lowry to censure the News! Terrible! terrible! Verily, a little power is a dangerous thing.

"We'd like an ice cream cone," announced two small boys. Robert and Harry Hallwas, to a clerk in a local drug store the other night. The boys were informed that their uncle had left 50 cents for them. They were skeptical, however, until they saw the cash. They then figured how to spend it. Among the purchases were milk shakes, tablets, and a final "blow-in" for butterscotch patties which were devoured in great style at one of the tables. J. Pierpont Morgan or John D. never thought more of their millions than these two boys did of their silver.

Once upon a time—we think it was last Tuesday morning—a tiny little Ford of the vintage of some years

It costs very little to recondition a MODEL T FORD

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to supply parts as long as they are needed by Ford owners.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T, we suggest that you take it to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure now will help to prevent costlier repairs later on, increase the value of the car, and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of only $2.60 you can have your generator put in first-class condition. A new universal joint will be installed for a labor cost of $3. Overhauling the carburetor costs $1.50; steering gear, $3.50; radiator, $7.50. A complete overhauling of the rear axle assembly runs between $5.75 and $7 for labor. An average price of $22.50 covers the overhauling of the motor and transmission.

These prices are for labor only because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The cost of these parts is low, however, because of the Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

BRISTOL MASONS HOLD STAG DINNER; EACH MEMBER ASKS GUEST

One-hundred and Fifty Attend; Several Speakers Present.

A notable meeting was held at the Community hall in Bristol Saturday evening when the Washburn Lodge No. 145, Free and Accepted Masons, was host at a stag dinner for its members and other men of the community. The plan of the meeting was for each member of the lodge to attend and bring a guest; there were more than 150 in attendance at the dinner.

During the dinner, music was provided by the high school orchestra from Union Grove; this was supplemented by numbers by the Bristol quartet, community singing led by Alvin Hansen of Kenosha and other musical numbers.

Harvey Gaines, past master of the Bristol lodge, presided ably as toastmaster in the program which followed the dinner. E. T. Manning, present master of the lodge welcomed the members and their guests.

ELECTRIC WATER PUMPING- For Your FARM

For day in, day out, all-year dependable water service, electric pumping is the sensible and economical plan. It also assures you of plenty of water for every farm need, including fire protection. And that is important. Your milk cows get all the water they want, and you can have a circulating water system in the dairy barn if you wish.

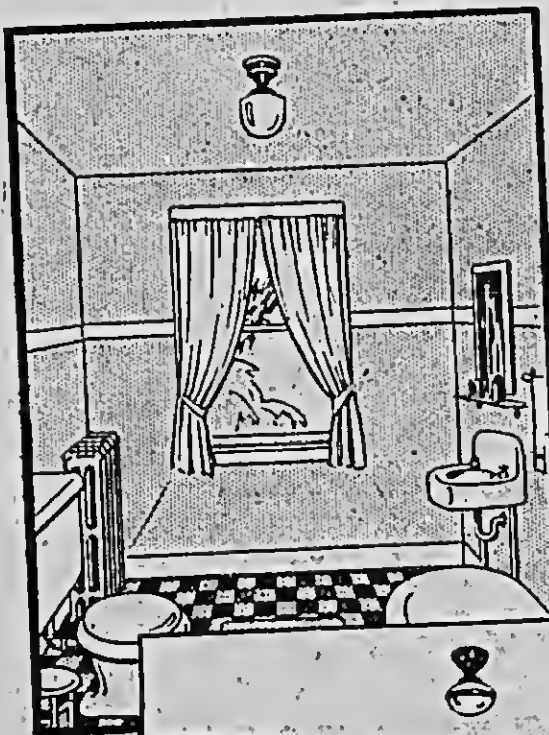

Electric pumping means a lot in the house, too. You can use water as freely as desired, without imposing upon anyone either for carrying water or making the pump work. An electric pump, operated from central station power lines, gives complete, satisfactory service.

A New Plan for Extending ELECTRIC SERVICE To Farms

A new plan has been worked out, largely through the advice of farmers, which we believe will hasten farm electrification. A post card mailed to us will bring a special farm representative who will explain complete details of the plan, without obligation to you.

HUGHES AND BALLARD WILL STAGE WIND-UP AT PALACE FRIDAY

Promoter Dick Macek offers the following card for this week: Frankie Hughes vs. Clarence Ballard; Leo Schneider vs. Jackie Davis; Oscar O'Hanlon vs. Perry Kearns; Don Conn vs. Jimmy Raymond; Joe Drinka vs. Jimmy Fay; Grover Alexander vs. Jimmie Mades; and Sammy Valos vs. Johnnie Benna.

Hughes Battles A-Plenty
Four rounds were necessary for Frankie Hughes to win the decision over Roosevelt Haines, Golden Gloves winner, at the Palace last Friday night. At the end of the first round it looked as though Hughes had no chance at all. At the end of the next period things looked but little brighter for him. At the beginning of the third period, however, Hughes went at his opponent so fiercely that he earned a draw.

It has been many a day since Palace fans have seen a rally like this one staged by Hughes. The boy was furiously going for Haines in the third—words cannot describe the punching, pounding and hitting that the Golden Glove fighter took in the extra period. Haines' strength was waning. He had used it all during the first two periods when Hughes was not going so strong.

Zahnale Is Defeated
At the beginning of the contest Hughes tried to put over one of his famous rights on Haines' jaw, but the Negro battler managed to stay out of reach until in the third round. Hughes could scarcely stand the blows administered in the first two rounds, but he seemed refreshed at the beginning of the third. From then on sailing was easy.

Harry Leggett and Charley Zahnale were pretty evenly matched. They kept going strong for three rounds and then the judges decreed an extra session. Leggett was finally given the decision. His fighting was steady and he was the more persistent of the two. Zahnale scored heavily with his wide right cross to the head but Leggett continually got in close and showered his opponent with blows. The boys were exchanging real, hard punches, too—not light tips.

Schneider Loses
Buddy Beyers, Twin Lakes, won another fight Friday night, this time over Joe Stowe, Kenosha. Stowe substituted for Angelo Garlow. Beyers scored mostly with a long left to the head with plenty of slugging, body and face punches.

Another four round melee was won by Roy Mullens over Leo "Red" Schneider. Schneider tired easily and when he was all in, Mullens was bittin' her up heavy.

Johnnie Hughes, Frankie's little brother, was defeated by Don Conn, who used right crosses and uppercuts to good advantage. Three rounds decided this fracas.

Ernie Krotchire outpunched Johnny Dale in three rounds, and Tex Penny was decisively defeated by Bobby Juhrend.

Avoids Stuttering "I d-d-d-o."
A man in Canada married a girl in Brazil by proxy. In this way their first quarrel was delayed longer than usual.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

How Lizards Change Color

Chameleons and some lizards have power to change color. Some of the cells within their skin are filled with yellowish oil drops, some cells contain small granules which look white from reflecting light, and still others contain brown or reddish pigment. Contraction of different parts of the skin at the will of the lizard causes the different cells to function.

The Rhythm Aces of Burlington furnished the music and sat back of a screen of blue stars.
